Please ask your cabin crew for today’s selection.

Opuscle de Haute Serre, Côtes du Lot, France, 2021

The rare and highly sought after grape variety Prunelart is the ancestor of Malbec and native to Gaillac in France, reflecting its terroir through depth and finesse. It is notable for its deep hue, rich body and balanced structure, producing wines with aromas of ripe plums, red fruits, spices, and sometimes a hint of leather or earthiness.

Quinta do Crasto Tinta Roriz, Douro DOC, Portugal, 2018

This Tinta Roriz grape variety with ageing potential showcases a profound and deep ruby hue with subtle purple highlights. Bursting with ripe red cherries, blackberries and a touch of plum, it is layered with hints of cedar, tobacco and baking spices. Velvety tannins and vibrant acidity create a beautifully balanced palate, followed by an impressively structured and persistent finish with lingering mineral notes and slight sweet tobacco.

Szepsy Furmint, Tokaji, Hungary, 2022

This wine from the fabled region of Tokaji, Hungary, is a vibrant and elegant dry white wine that highlights the region’s volcanic terroir. A masterful expression of Hungary’s flagship grape, Furmint, this wine unfolds with vibrant acidity and a complex bouquet of green apple, pear and citrus, layered with subtle wet stone and white flowers. The finish is long and focused, with lingering notes of preserved lemon. Perfect for ageing or enjoying now.
